9 Hurt As Army Truck Plunges Into Creek Bed

Ft. Campbell, Ky.
Mishap Scene; Probe Into Mishap Begun

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — A canvas-covered Army truck careened off a bridge Thursday and landed upside down in a rocky creek bed, killing 14 paratroopers and injuring nine others.

Many of the injured lay trapped among the dead until a helicopter lifted the rear of the flattened truck.

The soldiers of the new 101st "Pentomic" Airborne Division were returning to barracks after four days of field training in a remote area of this vast base astride the Kentucky-Tennessee line.

Smashed Into Creek

The 2½-ton truck suddenly veered across a gravel road, sliced off 15 to 20 feet of steel bridge rail in falling to make a curve and smashed into the shallow creek 20 feet below.

Several soldiers struggled free, tried unsuccessfully to free their buddies and then propped the heads of the trapped men above water. One survivor clambered up the bank to summon aid.

Two helicopters were used to evacuate the victims to the base hospital. Authorities said all survivors are expected to live.

A board of inquiry began an investigation of the accident, the worst in the history of this 100,000-acre military reservation. It occurred on the Tennessee section of the sprawling post.

Army authorities declined to speculate as to the cause, pending an official report.

40-45 Miles Per Hour

Several survivors estimated the truck was traveling 40 to 45 m.p.h. The Ft. Campbell speed limit on gravel roads is 25 miles an hour. The victims were members of the 327th Airborne Infantry, of the

Storm Forces 1-Day Closing Of Scout Camp

No one was hurt when a tree crashed into the chow house at Girl Scout Camp Merrydale while the campers were seeking shelter there during the wind and rain storm which struck the area yesterday about 3 p.m.

Other trees in the creek area were felled by the wind, which also blew down three tents in the new pioneer camp site. Other tents were ripped open and the contents soaked by the downpour.

Power failure, caused by a fallen electric pole, downed by the storm, cut off lights, cooking and refrigeration at the main camp which was occupied by 22 Brownie scouts and their leaders.

Mrs. Raymond Stiver, camp chairman, learned of the destruction when she phoned the camp to warn the leaders of the approaching storm. She immediately sent the camp bus to bring the Brownies back to town and parents were notified to go to camp to bring back the 22 Senior Scouts who had stayed to do what they could to restore order in their tents.

The pioneer camp dedication ceremonies planned for last night were canceled, and Troop 12, slated to begin its camp period today, also had to cancel its plans. Mrs. Stiver said if repairs can be completed today, troop camping will be resumed tomorrow.

Haiti President Is Overthrown

Power Seized By Army Chief Kebreau

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The government of provisional President Daniel Fignole was overthrown today in a military coup.

It was the fifth government to be unseated in this troubled Negro republic since last December. Fignole, who had wide backing the peasants and working classes, took office after street clashes erupted into brief civil war May 25.

Police headquarters announced that Brig. Gen. Antonio Kebreau, the army chief, "dismissed Fignole and the entire Cabinet." The announcement said a communique would be issued later in the day by which the army would take over all governmental powers.

Fignole and his ministers presumably were arrested. Crowds immediately started mushrooming in an ugly mood around police headquarters, the presidential palace and army headquarters. Police and troops stood by.

Only last Sunday, Fignole had ordered Kebreau to run a loyalty check on every army officer from captain to colonel—apparently in an effort to forestall just what

Girard Denies Army 'Pressuring' Him

CAMP WHITTINGTON, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard said today in the presence of a Pentagon general that the U. S. Army is not putting pressure on him.

Girard, 21-year-old Army specialist third class scheduled to be tried in Japanese courts for the shooting of a Japanese woman, made a press conference appearance flanked by Brig. Gen. Charles Decker, assistant judge advocate general of the Army, and Maj. Stanley Levin, the soldier's personal legal adviser appointed by the Army Far East Command.

The GI in a transpacific telephone conversation Thursday told his older brother in the United States that "the whole Far East Command" was putting pressure on him but he didn't know what they were trying to get him to do.

Girard also said in the telephone talk that Levin had told him he would get a stiffer sentence if tried by the Army than if tried by the Japanese. Girard's brother is now waging a court fight in Washington to prevent William's trial in the Japanese court.

French Report Rebels Kill 35

Claim Troops Slay 180 Insurgents In Day

ALGIERS (AP)—Algeria's French government has laid a new massacre at the door of nationalist rebels. The French said 35 Arab men died in the mass killing.

The office of Resident Minister Robert Lacoste blamed the National Liberation Front (FLN), the largest Algerian rebel group. The French also attributed the massacre of 338 Algerians in the Melouza area last month to the FLN.

A French communique said the second massacre occurred May 30 in the Wagram area of western Algeria. It gave this account: Thirty FLN rebels, armed with machine guns and rifles, "assembled the male adults from the sections of Ouled Zebouki, Ouled Benkjoba and Ouled Bouhalia and massacred them in two rooms of a farm." Twenty-seven were killed and 16 wounded.

Later, eight men were killed and four wounded in Douar Ouled Faleide, about nine miles to the south.

An FLN statement issued in Tunis charged that the wild anti-Moslem rioting by an enraged

Harold Smith, general chairman, said "it is now certain that the YWCA of Salem will have a home. There is no hesitation in the minds of the YW leaders in going forward and purchasing the Lease property and building the new YW unit."

Further reports are expected at Tuesday's report meeting from the industrial and commercial divisions of the fund drive, which so far have not reported many pledges.

Mrs. Robert Hall and Mrs. E. C. Hammell are co-chairmen of the members canvass, with Mrs. George Rogers directly outlying communities reports. According to those chairmen, women of the YW are solidly behind the campaign, with numerous pledges having been turned in.

Smith presided during the report meeting, and Rev. Laten Carter of First Presbyterian Church offered the invocation and spoke briefly on the backing for the YW being granted by the Salem Ministerial Association.

The Tuesday report session will be held at 8 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

Lorain Man Cleared In Narcotics Trial

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A verdict of innocent in the narcotics trial of John A. Gay, Lorain bar and bowling alley owner, brought cheers from the visitors' gallery in Lorain County Common Pleas Court here Thursday.

Counsel for Gay, who faced state charges on two counts of possession and two of sale of marijuana cigarettes, contended that Gay secured the cigarettes and gave them to a state liquor agent, Donald Van Horn, to "help him with his investigation" of narcotic violations in the Lorain area.

The jury of six men and six women deliberated three hours and 23 minutes.

Gay, 39, and Mrs. Zetta Lee Brown and Earl H. Barnett were arrested Feb. 21 in a series of raids by federal and state agents and Lorain police.

Barnett, 29, pleaded guilty to one count of possession of a narcotic drug for sale and was sentenced to Mansfield Reformatory for 20-40 years.

Mrs. Brown was convicted by a jury on four counts of possession and sale and was sentenced to Marysville Reformatory for 20-40 years.

Senate To Vote On Foreign Aid Bill Tonight

Backers Confident Measure Will Get OK Without New Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate approached a vote today on the $3,637,000,000 foreign aid bill with its leadership outwardly confident of defeating attempts to cut it by 390 million dollars.

Operating under an agreement limiting debate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), majority leader, expressed belief the Senate will vote final passage sometime tonight.

The big test shaped up on an amendment by Sen. Long (D-La.) to slash authorizations for military assistance to 1½ billion dollars—300 millions less than the Senate Foreign Relations Committee recommended for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Another amendment proposed by Long would reduce defense support to 710 millions. This would be 90 millions under the committee figure.

The Foreign Relations Committee cut administration requests by 227 millions. Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) Thursday called that "but a spit in the ocean of foreign aid waste."

Opponents also were primed with amendments aimed at stripping longer range authority from the bill and at retaining the present system of year-to-year authorizations.

Concede Odds Against Them Advocates of cuts conceded the odds were against them. But they flailed away at the bill most of Thursday.

Morse said "a senseless waste of millions" has contributed to what he called "a rising tide of anti-Americanism throughout the world."

Sen. Talmadge (D-Ga.) said economic aid has been used for everything from "bathing facilities for Egyptian camel drivers" to "collapsible toothpaste tubes to Cambodia."

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) charged there was "little mutual" about the mutual security program, "other than the fact that American taxpayers are mutually sick of paying the full load for the rest of the world."

But the bill was championed stoutly by others of both parties. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) accused opponents of raising "smokescreen arguments." Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) declared that because of foreign aid "the crack in the Iron Curtain is widening" and that Red satellites are looking hopefully to the day when they, like Yugoslavia, "may be free" from Russian domination.

4 Men Questioned; 2 Released

POLICE WITHOUT CLUES IN RAPE-SLAYING OF GIRL, 6

DETROIT (AP)—A routine check-out of countless tips and an area-wide dragnet for known sex deviates appeared the only hope of police today for the clue that would lead them to the savage rape-slayer of 6-year-old Mary de Causin. Police admittedly had little to go on.

Of four men picked up for questioning after the child's body was discovered Thursday in a small woods about 2½ miles from her home in suburban Ecorse Township, two were released.

Police continued questioning Orville Dibble, 45, an itinerant commercial photographer seen in the neighborhood of the girl's home Wednesday. And they held Jacques Pares, 23, of Patchogue, N. Y., who was arrested when officers found what they first believed to be bloodstains in his car. Tests later showed the stains were not blood.

Mary, daughter of a Ford Motor Co. technical writer, disappeared Wednesday evening. Her body, partly concealed by weeds, was found by an area resident who went into the woods to get topsoil for his garden.

The body was partly stripped. Mary's faded blue shorts were lying under her shoulder and her white buckled shoes had been placed carefully on a stump near her head.

Her hands were tied behind her back with a white shoe lace.

Mrs. Blaine Hill, 73, Is Victim; Husband In Poor Condition

A 69-year-old RD 2, North Benton woman was killed and her husband seriously injured in a head-on crash Thursday afternoon at 1:30 on 12th St. and a half mile north of Sebring.

The two cars involved in the accident were demolished. Canfield State Highway Patrolmen are continuing an investigation.

The victim, Mrs. Nena Hill, was pronounced dead on arrival at 1:45 at Alliance City Hospital, and her husband, Blaine, 73, was taken to the hospital where he is in poor condition with compound fractures of the left leg, lacerations of the chin and possible internal injuries.

Others Injured

Others injured and being treated at Alliance City Hospital are: Mrs. Robert Rinehart, 41, of 107 W. Michigan Ave., Sebring, in fair condition with lacerations of the chin and right knee, and injuries of the knees, chest, ribs and shoulders.

Carol Rinehart, 8, daughter of Mrs. Rinehart, in fair condition with a fractured skull, loss of several teeth, and injuries to the left wrist and right knee.

2 Boys Riding Motorbikes Hurt In Crash

Two motorbikes, unequipped with the necessary lights and driven by two boys, crashed head-on on the crest of a hill on the darkened Sevakene Lake Road Wednesday night at 10:30.

A driver of one motorbike, Lorin Wayne Cameron, 14, of RD 1, Salem, injured in the collision, is in good condition at the Central Clinic where he is being treated for a fractured right leg.

The other driver, Dale Hall, 14, of RD 2, Beloit, was bruised on the left foot but was not treated for the injury.

Both youths were cited by the State Highway Patrol to appear in juvenile court, following recovery on charges of operating without lights and for not having driver's licenses.

Drivers of motorbikes are required by law to have valid operator licenses, which are not obtainable until a youth is 16 years of age, the Patrol explained.

Cpl. John Miller of the Patrol emphasized that underage youths operating motorbikes will be cited by the Patrol and referred to juvenile court.

If an underage child is involved in an accident with a motorbike, Cpl. Miller notes, both the driver and the owner, usually the parent, must file financial responsibility reports with the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

If the bike is not insured, the owner stands to lose his driver's plates and licenses; and in case the motorbike driver injures any person may be subject to civil suit for damages, according to Cpl. Miller.

Resume Arms Talks Today

Stassen Reports Big Powers Near Disarmament Accord

LONDON (AP) — Harold Stassen said today that the big powers are nearer to a first-step disarmament agreement than they have been since World War II.

Stassen, U. S. delegate to the five-nation U. N. Disarmament subcommittee, returned from Washington for resumption of the arms talks this afternoon after conferences with Secretary of State Dulles and other State Department officials.

"We are nearer to an agreement for the first step than we have been at any time in the last 11 years," Stassen told reporters. "The big powers are willing to let in at London Airport."

"Some difficult problems remain," he continued. "Part of the major problems has been overcome, but a few major ones remain."

"After all, the first step is the most difficult, which is verified by the fact that it has been 11 years being laid."

Officials in Washington, after Stassen's conference there, described as encouraging Russia's reaction to the new U. S. plan for a limited start on arms control. Before he flew to Washington last week, Stassen had discussed the American plan privately ly and informally with Valerian Zorin, Soviet disarmament delegate.

One factor contributing to Washington's encouragement at the initial Soviet reaction was a reported indication that the Russians would be willing to let international disarmament inspectors be stationed on Soviet territory.

The Soviet government previously had said it was prepared to accept inspection teams as part of a general disarmament program. The present indication is that they would be willing to have the inspectors at an early stage of an arms control program as part of an agreement for ending the nuclear arms race.

Neither the United States plan nor the Soviet response has been officially made public, although Stassen gave Soviet representative Valerian Zori an unofficial preview of the American plan in a private meeting about two weeks ago.

Authorities said Zorin's informal reply had been incorporated in a paper and it was that document which has been getting some high-level attention in Washington. The knowledge of it, and the interpretation that it leaves the way open for further negotiations, modified reaction at the State Department to the statement made Thursday by Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

In a news conference in Helsinki, Khrushchev described Western proposals for disarmament control as a "screen to mask plans to continue the arms race."

He ridiculed an American proposal for setting up an aerial inspection zone in the Arctic. The United States has described the Arctic proposal as a testing operation to build confidence and experience in international inspection procedures. Khrushchev spoke of it as a plan to "photograph the Arctic ice."

Khrushchev did say, however, that Russia would agree to international inspection posts in Soviet territory if this would hasten agreement on ending nuclear tests.

Youth Gets 40 Years For Cousin's Death

INDEPENDENCE, Va. (AP) — A 17-year-old Ohio youth, whose mental capacity was termed questionable by a county judge here, has been sentenced to 40 years in prison for the death last February of his cousin.

The youth, Lloyd Hill of Gallipolis, Ohio, pleaded guilty Monday to the fatal beating of John Ward, 68, Ironton, Ohio, while the two were traveling by car from Ohio to Florida.

He was sentenced to 40 years in prison Thursday by Grayson County Judge Jack Matthews, who said he did not impose a life sentence or the death penalty because of Hill's age and because of the youth's questionable mental capacity.

"I do not know what place a man such as you has in society," Judge Matthews said.

Judge Matthews also sentenced Hill to 40 years in prison for armed robbery of the victim, but ordered the two terms to be run concurrently.

Hill admitted beating Ward after the two quarreled. Ward's body was found on U. S. 21 near here.

May Lop $835,000 From Ohio Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House-Senate conference committees have tentatively agreed to lop $835,000 from the still-pending capital improvements bill, bringing the total to just under 145 million dollars.

The committees will meet again when the Legislature returns June 18 to wind up affairs of the 102nd General Assembly.

Included in the $835,000 cuts are a half million dollars for Bridge Creek Dam in Akron and $100,000 for a Putnam County lake.

Other reductions would bring a proposed $415,000 appropriation for the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Sandusky down to $265,000 and an allotment for erosion control at Crane Creek near Toledo from $100,000 to $25,000.

Committee members tentatively decided against a provision that would permit transfer of racing dates from one track to another.

Still unsettled is a dispute over a two million dollar appropriation for construction of Salt Fork Lake in Guernsey County.

Sen. David M. Ferguson (R-Guernsey) claimed the lake would pay for itself through sale of the water and lease and sale of land around it.

He rejected a suggestion that the Legislature appropriate only enough money to buy necessary land for the present.

Vote Today On Merger Of Presbyterians

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the 99th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America vote today on a proposal that could bring some three million Presbyterians under a single denomination.

The vote is on a proposed merger with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

A committee of seven men — four clergymen and three lay representatives — has already been named to present its recommendations to the assembly before the vote.

The chairman, Dr. Cary N. Weisiger III of Mount Lebanon, Pa., said he is against the proposed union, and that he will vote against it "as a matter of conscience." But he said he does not intend to fight the plan.

Dr. Samuel C. Weir of Dearborn, Mich.; the Rev. Clifford Ramsdale of LeClaire, Iowa, and Dr. William H. French of Des Moines, Iowa, the other clergymen on the committee, are known to favor the merger.

Dr. Horace K. Giffin of the Nebraska Presbytery, John Gilbert of the Monongahela Presbytery and William Webb of the Delaware Presbytery, lay members of the committee, thus far have not expressed their views.

A majority of the presbyteries of the United Presbyterian Church have approved the merger. The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America has already unanimously approved the union.

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

Crop Report as of June 1
WINTER WHEAT in Ohio is estimated at 39.3 million bushels, unchanged from May 1, one per cent less than last year and 23 per cent less than average, according to today's Department of Agriculture survey.
Rye condition is reported at 88 per cent, above the 84 condition for June last year but below the average condition of 90.
Condition of all hay reported at 91 per cent compares with 85 per cent a year earlier and the average of 87 per cent for June 1.
Pasture feed condition reported at 94 per cent is the second highest in the last 12 years. In 1956, June 1 condition was 85 and the average for the date is 90.
Peaches are estimated at 850,000 bushels, 15 per cent less than the 1956 crop and 7 per cent less than average.
Pears are estimated at 50,000 bushels, a little larger than last year's small crop but only one-third of the average.

Sweet cherries are estimated at 250 tons compared with 240 tons last year and the average of 350 tons.
Milk production during May is estimated at 587 million pounds, one per cent less than in May 1956 but 6 per cent more than average for the month.
Eggs laid during May are estimated at 216 million, 4 per cent less than the May 1956 production and 10 per cent less than the average for May.

PRODUCTION PROSPECTS for winter wheat on June 1 were unchanged from a month earlier. Moisture supplies were generally adequate for the crop during May and, with temperatures averaging near normal, the wheat crop made satisfactory progress.

Advancement of growth is ahead of last year but later than in 1955. About 82 per cent of the crop is now headed compared with 57 per cent a year earlier and practically all headed by this time in 1955.

Ohio farmers are experiencing a spring planting season somewhat similar to that of 1956. Progress to date in planting corn and soybeans is about the same as a year earlier and a week to two weeks later than usual. Corn is now 86 per cent planted and soybeans 64 per cent. In 1956, 80 per cent of the corn and 66 per cent of the soybeans were planted by this date.

Over most of the State rainfall was generally light during the first 10 days of May and across southern Ohio during the first half of May.

Oat seeding which had been delayed by wet weather during April was largely completed during this time and a start made on planting corn and soybeans. The following two weeks of the month were largely unfavorable for field work and only limited progress was made in planting corn and soybeans.

The last week of May permitted resumption of field work and rapid progress was made in getting the corn and soybean crops in the ground. Weather during the first week of June allowed good progress with field work in most areas.

FRUIT PROSPECTS to date are for a peach crop below last year and below average. Prospects for sweet cherries and pears are a little better than last year's output but below average. Early May freezing temperatures were a factor in lowering production prospects, and peach prospects in north central Ohio were hurt by low winter temperatures.

Growth of pasture and hay grasses and legumes was generally good to excellent throughout the month except in the southern part of the State where it was too dry during early May.

Milk production in Ohio during the first 5 months of 1957 totaled 2,438 million pounds, one per cent less than the 2,467 million pounds produced during the same period in 1956.

Egg production this year during the period January through May totaled 1,082 million, 2 per cent less than the 1,107 million eggs produced during these months in 1956.

Youths 'Rob' Buckeye Boys' State Bank

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Bank president Don Forquer personally captured one of four youths who attempted to rob the Buckeye Boys' State Bank Thursday. The poorly planned robbery netted the robbers only a few cancelled checks and some records.

Unlike a similar robbery staged a year ago to test the efficiency of the Boys' State Highway Patrol, this robbery was "unauthorized," according to American Legion officials.

The captured bank robbers were taken to Boys' State jail and all items taken in the robbery were either recovered or duplicated.

In other developments at Boys' State, Gov. Kenneth Goudreau of Cleveland made a plea for quick acceptance of his budget in his "state of the state" address to the Legislature.

Re-elected to the Boys' State Board of Trustees were Edward J. Sklenicka, Cleveland attorney, president; Robert Minshall of Washington Court House, vice president, and William Collins, Mentor, finance officer.

Largest Altar In U.S. Will Be Dedicated

CAREY, Ohio (AP)—The largest and most elaborate altar ever erected in America to honor Mary, Mother of Christ, will be dedicated here Saturday, June 22.

Built to the memory of men and women who gave their lives in World War II, the altar also serves as a memorial to devotees of the Shrine of Our Lady of Consolation here.

Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati will dedicate the outdoor altar and offer a Pontifical High Mass at noon. Ten thousand persons are expected.

Father Theodore Eickholtz, pastor of the shrine, said the thousands of pilgrims who journey to the shrine each year made the outdoor altar a necessity.

How To Influence People

Before all the influential minds in Washington commit themselves to some jittery scheme for answering Khrushchev on television and radio, there is a truism about influencing people they might remember.

The most convincing way to influence people is by deeds.

Khrushchev's brilliant performance in that now-famous TV interview changed no minds in the United States or anywhere else. It was just talk, no deeds.

The Kremlin has been on the defensive about the United States and has tried to keep Russians from learning about Americans because this country is long on deeds, though short on talk.

If the United States ever pulls the blunder of getting into a propaganda contest with the Kremlin, its words will be given no more credence by Russians than the words of the men in the Kremlin are given by Americans.

There are no more converts to be made by U.S. propaganda in Russia than there are to be made by Soviet propaganda in the United States.

All this straining in high places to make a good impression on the Russian people is unbecoming to the holders of the high places.

The run-of-mine U.S. citizen knows he is not on the defensive about his way of life and does not worry about making converts. If all barriers were removed, Russians would emigrate to the United States; Americans would not tumble over one another to go to Russia.

For years the U.S. press has wished there might be some way to clear channels of communication in and out of the Soviet Union. Newspapersmen long ago realized there is no way to have a semblance of a free press in a dictatorship. It is contrary to the very idea of dictatorship.

Yet, one TV interview with Khrushchev and dozens of dignitaries who never gave the matter two thoughts before are frothing over schemes to set up two-way television, communication with the Kremlin. Why not let the Kremlin do the frothing?

In short, what would be the matter with falling back on a little native dignity, instead of acting like a newcomer trying to make a big impression on the old settlers?

Spell It Out

President Eisenhower was off his feed and feet just long enough to give congressmen blocking his proposal to do something about presidential disability a twinge of conscience.

Eventually, this murky place in constitutional government will have to be stumbled through again, as it was in the time of Woodrow Wilson's physical collapse. When this happens, the blame will come to rest on the members of Congress who refused to chart it clearly when the problem became acute during Dwight Eisenhower's administration. He, himself, proposed action.

No administration in the past was organized in a way to do what the President's "staff workers" did during his coronary attack and his subsequent surgery. Not every administration in the future will be set up to administer executive responsibilities in a similar manner.

No administration can be protected under the Constitution as now written against the possibility of prolonged presidential incapacity. Until the provision for presidential disability has been spelled out, the eventuality will be preserved as a happy hunting ground for the kinds of opportunistic, catch - as - catch - can politics that the American people dread and mistrust.

Could that be the reason so many politicians are dead-set against spelling out in advance what happens if a chief executive is unable to carry on the duties of his office? Do they like the happy hunting ground?

There Also Is Musali

Everybody who reads and listens now knows that an American soldier named William Girard has been turned over to Japanese authorities for trial because of his connection with the death of a Japanese woman.

There also is a soldier named Marion Musali, who has been turned over to Greek authorities for trial because of his connection with the death of a Greek general. Why is no one bothering about Musali?

Solely because his case was handled in a routine manner and never attracted attention. He is just one of thousands of members of the U.S. armed services overseas who get into scrapes each year and are turned over to local authorities for trial. In Japan alone there were more than 5,000 cases in the year preceding Nov. 30, 1956. The Japanese turned all of them back to U. S. military courts, except 111. Of the 111, there were 15 cases that resulted in imprisonment.

No one knows what will happen to Musali, who is with the Air Force, any more than anyone knows what will happen to Girard, who is with the Army. But the difference is that no one has picked out Musali for that special kind of attention which can turn a routine procedure into a national furor, whenever it suits the specialists in furor to stir up some fresh excitement.

Supreme Court Chaos

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Idealism Rather Than Realism Seen In Decisions

David Lawrence

The Supreme Court of the United States added several complexities to the judge-made chaos of our times last Monday when it handed down a decision freeing two American women who murdered their soldier husbands. The reason for acquitting them is that, because they lived in military quarters overseas, they were denied a civilian "trial by jury."

Maybe Congress now will be encouraged to give the same "civil rights" of trial by jury to both white and Negro citizens in the South who don't commit murder but are merely charged with "criminal contempt" under vaguely worded court injunctions.

Eight justices participated in the decision and the ninth refrained because he had not been on the court long enough to hear the whole case.

But the ruling and dissenting opinions which covered more than 25,000 words do not give members of Congress or anyone else the slightest inkling of what is or is not "the supreme law of the land" on this particular issue.

Four justices ruled that the wives of service men cannot be tried overseas or anywhere else by court-martial but must be tried by civilian courts—either foreign or specially provided for by the United States.

TWO JUSTICES in separate opinions agreed to dispose of the case by freeing the two women because they said they had not had a jury trial and that in the matter of a capital offense—punishable by death—there has to be a jury trial.

They declared that other kinds of offenses committed by civilians attached to the armed forces might possibly come within military jurisdiction but declined to be specific about future cases.

Two dissenting justices said the evidence showed that two women "brutally killed their husbands, both American soldiers, while stationed with them in quarters furnished by our armed forces on its military installations in foreign lands."

These justices wanted to uphold the ruling of the military tribunal which had sent the women to prison for life.

Now it so happens that these two cases were decided the other way—the military court was upheld—in a decision handed down a year ago by the Supreme Court.

The high court seldom reverses itself. If it does, it usually contends that some new facts have been brought out that weren't available before.

ONE WONDER after reading Justice Frankfurter in his separate opinion goes to considerable pains, however, to show that the ruling rendered a year ago was based on a previous decision in another case that really doesn't resemble the facts or circumstances surrounding the present case.

Justice Frankfurter in his separate opinion goes to considerable pains, however, to show that the ruling rendered a year ago was based on a previous decision in another case that really doesn't resemble the facts or circumstances surrounding the present case.

Justice Frankfurter's explanation why four of the six justices who voted to release the murderers didn't at least give some such explanation when they reversed the famous opinion upholding "Separate but equal" facilities in schools.

This decision was rendered originally in 1896 and was then reversed in 1954 when the court merely said it believed "sociological" considerations had somehow grown more important—a concession to expediency.

Mr. Frankfurter in his opinion last Monday, however, in arguing for the idea of giving explanations when reversals by the court occur, quoted approvingly of the following concept:

"If a precedent involving a black horse is applied to a case involving a white horse, we are not excited. If it were an elephant, then we would venture into thought. The difference might make a difference. We really are concerned about precedents chiefly when their facts differ somewhat from the facts in the case at bar."

THE FOREGOING will be quoted again and again to point out that the Supreme Court in reversing the "separate but equal" doctrine three years ago just didn't have any new facts but decided to go along with the "trend of the times."

Justice Frankfurter in his latest opinion warns belatedly that reversals must be based on judicial principle and he adds:

"Legal doctrines are not self-generated abstract categories. They do not fall from the sky; nor are they pulled out of it. They have a specific juridical origin and etiology."

Looking up in the dictionary the word "etiology," one finds it means "custom," which makes the phrase mean judicial precedent and the customs of the people—which the Supreme Court certainly ignored in the integration cases.

The Supreme Court, moreover, ventured into a lot of other fields with its variegated opinion on the two murder cases which it decided last Monday.

FOUR OF THE JUSTICES—Chief Justice Warren, Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan—said a significant thing about how treaties or agreements with foreign governments cannot supersede the Constitution.

Presumably even if the United States agreed by treaty, for instance, to let William Girard be tried by a Japanese court, this doesn't mean the treaty or agreement under which such action were taken is constitutional.

It could mean that Girard has a right to trial at least by an American military court.

Sen. Bricker, sponsor of the much-discussed amendment to the Constitution to assure that a treaty cannot supersede the Constitution, feels reassured by the new pronouncement but points out that only four justices subscribed to the declaration.

It all adds to the bewilderment of the public which is being solemnly told that it must always bow to "the supreme law of the land"—whatever that is today.

Guarding Your Health

Spotted Fever

Rocky Mountain spotted fever is by no means confined to the Rocky Mountain states. It is a disease caused by a tiny living organism known as a Rickettsia.

During the past 10 years hundreds of cases have been reported from almost all portions of the United States.

Since the disease is sometimes mild and not diagnosed, there are good reasons for believing that it may be considerably more frequent than figures show.

A recent report in The Journal of the American Medical Assn. is based in large part on the 74 cases of the disease diagnosed at the University of Virginia Hospital from 1945-54.

Rocky Mountain spotted fever may be mild or severe enough to cause death. It usually begins suddenly with headache, chills and aches and pains, together with the rapid onset of fever. Within about two to four days, the typical rash generally appears. First, it usually affects the wrists and ankles and later spreads to the rest of the body surface.

In addition to these clinical symptoms there are some diagnostic laboratory tests which are useful though none yet devised is perfect. Nevertheless, symptoms should be suspected and diagnosis made as early as possible because treatment with some of the antibiotics, especially if begun early, is exceedingly useful.

How does one acquire this sometimes dangerous disease? The organism lives in wood ticks and dog ticks, though only a small portion of these appear to be infected. However, during the tick season any person who might be exposed should search his body carefully for ticks before they become attached. In children this search should be done by the parents with special emphasis on the scalp, which is often overlooked.

There is another item of prevention which is important. Sometimes the disease can be acquired without the actual bite of the tick, but by removing an infected tick from a dog with bare fingers. This procedure should, of course, be done by some other method.

Oh, Well

Feudin' Days Past

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

ANN HARBOR

A University of Michigan emeritus professor of law who has made a life-long study of feuds states that "feudin' and fightin'" now lives mainly in legend and folk song and has finally passed from the scene in the hill country of the South.

Prof. John E. Tracy, otherwise known widely throughout the legal profession of the United States for his books on how to practice law, describes the typical pattern of "a classic feud" like the fabled clash between "The Martins and the Coys, who were dangerous mountain boys."

How did these rustic bloodbaths start? "In any number of ways," explains Tracy. "Someone shoots another man's dog, and the owner shoots the man who shot the dog, and the other man's relatives shoot him and maybe someone is caught and hanged."

"BUT THE THING smolders on. Everybody in each family is brought up to know that all the members of the other family are his enemies. Every time the families get anywhere near one another, as in town on court days, someone would start shooting and the feud would be on."

Tracy, who has practiced law in Marquette and Menominee, Mich., Chicago and New York, in addition to teaching for 20 years, grew up in the mountains of Tennessee at Crossville on the Cumberland plateau, and since his retirement in 1950 has been assembling his data and recollections of the feuding era of the South.

He describes his first contact with feuds when he and a group of boys went camping at Adams Ford on the Obed River, a small mountain stream, in the true tradition of Huckleberry Finn. The Mark Twain novel contains a classic account of a hill feud and in it its worldwide circulation has spread the idea that such deadly fighting is typical of the United States.

Exploring the countryside, young Tracy and Co. discovered an abandoned farm house, and learned from an ancient settler that it was "the old Hixon place,"

FEUDING actually came to the American hill country from the old world, where the "blood-feud or vendetta was almost inevitable in a country of loose legal organization," and became a scourge in Corsica and Albania where it was the time-honored custom for the nearest kinsman of a murdered man to assume the obligation to take up the quarrel and avenge his death.

This duty grew to be an obligation upon all the relatives, and each killing was viewed as a wrong done to the whole "gens" or family. A community torn by such strife sometimes appointed a mediator to persuade the family currently on the short end of the fighting to accept compensation instead, and this is believed by some legal authorities to be the first example of the contracts now used in business.

The immunity which women folk in southern families enjoyed from the wars of revenge has been traced to the "bessa" or pledge by which certain people were protected from assault in Albania, where it was the custom that even an accidental death could only be wiped out by the murder of the guilty person or one of his relatives.

ALL WOMEN are protected by the besa, and so also is any man accompanied by a woman. Boys under 16 years of age, ecclesiastics, and generally all those incapable of bearing arms also are protected, while certain places or routes, some occupations and certain periods conferred similar rights.

If these "ground rules" had not been tactically observed, the carnage of the hill feuds would have been much greater, and in the most savage outbreaks there would not have been any members of a vanquished clan like the Hixons left to emigrate to Texas.

Yet the link between these customs in the hill country has only recently been established with other parts of the world where feuding once flourished and to some extent continues today.

They can build a wooden walk over the middle of the pond and rent it to television producers for the local of blood-curdling in which added mothers push their offspring into the briny for kicks.

Or, if they are like this pond-builder they can wonder how to get enough water into the pond to keep it from being the largest dry basin of its kind in three townships—a pockmark on the earth that could be explained in only one of two ways:

1. Some fool made it.
2. A meteor made it circa 3857 BC and for some reason it never filled up with water, although every other low place brimmed over.

There are millions of Americans who don't read the news in detail, have only a sketchy idea of Soviet past performances and too easily say "Not a bad guy. Why don't we play ball with him?" when they see a Russian master of propaganda do his stuff in their living rooms.

The number of Americans who are ignorant of Khrushchev's past performances and who aren't alert to the way Soviet leaders can cross them up is greater than you think.

'Why I Am For the YW'

COLUMBIANA

Hanna Family Memorial To Be Unveiled At Sunday Program

COLUMBIANA — A memorial to the forebears of the late U.S. Senator Marcus A. Hanna will be unveiled in Firestone Recreational Park here at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

The memorial marks the site of the pioneer cabin of Benjamin and Rachel Dixon Hanna, grandparents of the late senator. Both the Hanna and Dixon families were of Scotch-Irish descent and the earliest ancestors of both in America came from Ireland before the Revolutionary war, both settling in Penn's Quaker colony of Pennsylvania, where both embraced the Quaker faith. The Dixons settled in eastern and the Hannas in southern Pennsylvania.

They had no contact until their westward paths toward the new country in Ohio converged at the site of the future town of Columbiana, the Dixons having arrived in 1801 and the Hannas in 1802. Joshua Dixon, head of the Dixon family, who had served in the Chester County, Pa., militia during the revolution, laid out Columbiana as a town in 1805, and Robert Hanna, head of the Hanna settlers, served with Nicholas Firestone, ancestor of the Columbiana Firestones, as a trustee of Fairfield township.

THE FAMILIES were merged by the ties of marriage when Benjamin Hanna, son of Robert, espoused Rachel Dixon, daughter of Joshua. They built their cabin on the site of the memorial in 1810. Moving to Lisbon later, their son, Leonard, became a practicing physician there, where Leonard's son, Marcus, was born Sept. 24, 1837. In 1852, Dr. Hanna and family moved to Cleveland, where Marcus became prominent as head of M. A. Hanna & Co., a coal and iron corporation.

Active in politics, he was made Republican national chairman and managed both campaigns of William McKinley of Canton for the presidency, in 1896 and 1900. Mr. Hanna was appointed in 1897 to the U.S. Senate seat left vacant when John Sherman accepted the post of secretary of state in the cabinet of President McKinley. He was subsequently elected and served as senator until his death in 1904.

The spring that supplied the pioneer Hanna homestead has been reconditioned and flows into a lagoon. Rustic stone steps lead from the spring up the rising ground to the short distance to the cabin site, marked by a five-ton boulder. Garden clubs and park employees have beautified the area with plantings.

The memorial was made possible by Mrs. Fanny Hanna Moore of Canton, N.J., and Leonard C. Hanna of Cleveland, niece and nephew of the late senator. Arrangements for the dedication have been in charge of the Historical Society of Columbiana and Fairfield Township.

FRANK BEANE of Canton, commander of the 10th Ohio district of the American Legion, will install officers at the meeting of Columbiana County Council of the Legion in North Georgetown at 8 p.m. today. Transportation will be available at the Legion home at 7 p.m. for any who may want to attend. For the convention of the 10th district in Massillon tomorrow and Sunday, delegates from Firestone Post are William Duffy, Thomas Crawford and Richard Wendel; alternates, George Snook, A. M. McLaughlin and John Ellis.

Eight explorer scouts from Boy Scout Troops 18 of Firestone American Legion Post and 16 of the Methodist Church, accompanied by two leaders are home from a 10-day fishing trip to Camp Quae on Lake Nobsong, Canada. Fishing was good, especially for perch and walleye. Side trips included a personally conducted tour of the Canadian Air Force Base at North Bay, Ontario, and a tour of points of interest conducted by Mrs. Archie Sequin, owner of the camp. The scouts also saw Niagara Falls at night. Members of the party were, from Troop 18, James Rupert, crew leader; Norman Spiker, secretary; treasurer; Robert Booth, Philip Ibbotson, Jerry Mollenkopf and David Liston; from Troop 16, Larry Reed and Carlyle Elser. The two leaders were James Munyon and Larry Himes, the last-named from New Middletown.

Open house will be observed at the Columbiana postoffice from 2 to 4 p.m. tomorrow for public inspection of its remodeled and enlarged quarters. Postal officials from Cincinnati and Cleveland and neighboring postmasters are expected to be present.

The street department unloaded for the water department in the Pennsylvania freight yard yesterday a car of lime from the National Gypsum Co., Kimbolt on, W. Va.

FBI Agents Nab Prison Escapee

RENO, Nev. — FBI agents today arrested Arthur Frederick Benner Jr., 29, for crossing state lines to avoid serving a life sentence for first degree murder at the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus.

W. Mark Felt, agent in charge of the Salt Lake City office, said Benner had been in Reno two days when arrested on the street early this morning.

He said Benner was convicted in Sandusky County May 15, 1949. He escaped while on an "honor assignment" at the prison last month.

Benner, formerly of Detroit, was serving a life term in the penitentiary when he walked away May 7, almost eight years to the day after he began his sentence. Warden Ralph W. Alvis reported that Benner entered the prison for the death of a Fremont, Ohio, policeman who was questioning him about a Cleveland holdup.

Benner and another man were in the car that was stopped by the policeman Nov. 3, 1948. While being questioned, the pair started the car and it was sideswiped by a truck, killing the policeman.

Professors Retrace Huck Finn's Voyage

HANNIBAL, Mo. — Three young Ohio University English teachers, aboard an 8 by 14-foot open raft, are floating down the Mississippi River today, retracing the storybook voyage of Mark Twain's famed "Huck Finn."

The three, Robert Hogan, 27; John Violette, 27, and Loren Davidson, 34, all of Athens, Ohio, began the trip Thursday after building the raft here.

They said they are making the 300-mile trip from Hannibal to Northern Arkansas to gather material for articles about Mark Twain's story and to have a pleasant vacation. They expect to complete the trip in three weeks.

The musical instrument invented by Benjamin Franklin was a set of water-filled glasses played by rubbing the rims and which sometimes is referred to as a harmonica.

Graham 'Killing' Saloon Business

NEW YORK — Saloons around Madison Square Garden are having a slack season. Whatever Billy Graham is reviving, it's not the tavern trade.

"He's killing it," said bartender Joseph Crotty, jerking his thumb toward the arena where Graham is preaching nightly. "Things are dead. It's the same all up and down the avenue."

Before and after the evangelist's meetings, the streets swarm thick with crowds, but behind the neon-lit plate glass of the bars, stools go empty.

Some of the bar help in the establishments lining 8th Avenue and sidestreets have been laid off, particularly table waitresses.

At a corner cigar store, Frank Goldner, the operator, said they "don't smoke much either. Most of them just buy candy, mints or books." Goldner has stocked up with some Bibles for the new kind of patrons.

Graham preached to 17,000 people Thursday night.

At the end of the sermon, 441 people came forward, raising to 17,670 the total "decisions for Christ" during the crusade.

AP And AFL-CIO Reach Agreement

NEW YORK — The Associated Press and the AFL-CIO Commercial Telegraphers Union reached agreement today on terms of a new contract.

The settlement came after 14 hours of continuous negotiations conducted by Commissioner Walter A. Maggilo of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service.

CTU members operate and maintain Teletype and Wirephoto equipment in the offices of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative. Approximately 650 employees are in the union. The contract with them expired last Monday but had been twice extended to Thursday midnight.

The new agreement provides for a one-year contract with a money package averaging $4.62 weekly per employee. Other contract provisions were agreed upon previously.

Potters Picnic Is Set For June 22 At Canton

A near-record crowd of at least 30,000 is expected at the 29th annual potters picnic Saturday, June 22 at Meyers Lake Park in Canton.

Potters and their families from many parts of the eastern United States are expected at the Stark County amusement center for the traditional outing and reunion of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Last year's picnic drew 30,000. The record turnout was 35,000 in 1955.

A crowded program will keep the picnickers busy from mid-morning until late at night. Rides throughout the park — with three age groups, with a $50 prize exceptions — will be free from 10 a.m. until noon.

Baby Show a Feature
The first event on the formal program will be the traditional baby show, termed "Ohio's largest." It generally draws a field of at least 300. The baby contest will start at 12.

Youngsters will compete in three for the winner in each. Second and third place winners will receive baby dolls and all entrants will be given a baby set — a plate and a mug. Registered nurses will serve as judges.

Second event will be a penny scramble, also in the dance pavilion, at 12:30. Youngsters in three age brackets will scramble for 2,500 pennies.

After a break for lunch, athletic events — races and contests for all age groups — will get under way at 1 at the park baseball field. A total of $300 in prizes will be awarded.

Salem China to Play Ball
Another afternoon highlight will be a baseball game between teams representing the D. E. McNicol China Co. of Clarksburg and the Salem China Co. for the mythical "world's championship of the pottery industry." Salem China won in 1956, defeating the East Liverpool Merchants, which had won the title three times.

The final contest will be a "junior bathing beauty" parade, in which prizes also will be awarded. The IBOP picnic committee said free coffee will be available throughout the day. The committee expects to use 300 pounds. It will be dispensed into any container except glass, the committee said.

Potters from East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Wellsburg are expected to make up a large percentage of the crowd, but there will be others from Sebring, East Palestine, Alliance, Salem, Steubenville, Coshocton, Crooksville, Wheeling, New Castle, Canonsburg, Clarksburg, Beaver Falls and other ceramic centers.

'Delinquent' Candidate Files Campaign Costs
The first of three "delinquent" candidates filed a sworn statement of campaign expenses today with the County Election Board as the aftermath of the May 7 primaries.

Everett R. Little said he had no expenses in his bid for the Democratic nomination as third ward councilman at Wellsburg.

Only two others failed to file the reports before the June 5 deadline from the six county communities that conducted primaries. Their reports still are awaited.

They are James Stone, a Republican candidate for mayor of East Liverpool, and William Corfee of Lisbon, also a GOP mayoralty aspirant.

'Small Fruit Day' Marred By Rain
LISBON — A good crowd attended but rain partially marred activities at the "small fruits day" at the Ohio Experiment Station Thursday, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent, who attended with Joseph and Tony Less of Washingtonville, Columbus County fruit growers.

George M. Darrow, retired horticulturist of the Maryland Department of Agriculture, and Freeman S. Howlett, chief of the department of horticulture at the Wooster Experiment Station, were the main speakers, Lower said.

Cleveland Man AWOL 32 Years

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fred T. Carroll, 50, a restaurateur in suburban Parma, walked into Central Police Station here Thursday night and told officers he had been absent without official leave from the Army since 1925.

He said he decided to give himself up because his conscience had been bothering him.

Carroll said his real name is Theodore Fred Krzowski, that he joined the Army in 1923 when he was 16, and was assigned to Ft. Ontario, N. Y. He was a cook with the 28th Infantry Regiment of the First Infantry Division there for 18 months when he left for Chicago with another soldier on a 48-hour pass and did not return, he said.

He came to Cleveland a year later and was married in 1928. He has two children.

Carroll worked as a cook for two restaurant chains here and four years ago he opened a restaurant of his own in Parma.

Detectives fingerprinted Carroll and then released him to the custody of his son, Ted, 26.

An agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Carroll probably would get off with only a slight reprimand from the Army since he went AWOL during peacetime.

famed "Screaming Eagle" airborne division of World War II whose commander said "nuts" to a German demand for their surrender while besieged at Bastogne.

"At first, I thought it was a pretty good scare—nothing serious," said Pvt. Ronald J. Curtis, 21, Kalamazoo, Mich., one of the survivors. "Then there was a falling sensation, then a thud—not a crash."

"There was a feeling of falling and a pressure of bodies against us. Everyone was being tossed around. There was no panic, no screaming, no yelling."

Curtis said he saw an opening and crawled out, along with two or three others. While the others tried to aid their trapped companions, Curtis scrambled back to the road and flagged a passing jeep.

Repairman Summoned Help
A quarter of a mile away, he spotted a telephone repairman on a pole and got him to summon help.

The helicopters were dispatched to the scene, about 10 miles southeast of post headquarters, as ambulances began the trip over unpaved roads.

A sling from one copter was attached to the left rear of the truck, which then was raised to permit removal of the injured and dead. The casualties were pulled from the 18-inch-deep Piney Fork Creek by members of the 326th Engineer Battalion who were working nearby.

An Army spokesman said the truck was "driven by Specialist 3.C. Ernest J. McNeill, 28, Lumberton, N. C., who was killed along with the other occupant of the cab."

happened today. Former Police Chief Col. Pierre Armand, whose effort to seize control of the army set off the bloodshed of May 25, took refuge in the Spanish Embassy here Monday rather than be questioned.

Haiti's six months of troubles stemmed mainly from rivalry among 10 candidates for the presidency in elections originally scheduled to be held next Sunday. Rumors had been circulating here for days that Fignole intended to seize the post without holding elections.

Fignole's loyalty checkup order seems to have been a ranking point of irritation among ranking army officers and apparently led to Kereau's decision to seize power.

One informed source gave this account: Kereau and other officers went to Fignole's home before dawn and told him he was through. Under pressure Fignole signed a letter of resignation. The army immediately shipped him out of the country into exile.

Cancer Drug Rumor Sends Stock Soaring
NEW YORK (AP)—Rumors of a new anticancer drug sent a stock soaring on the New York Stock Exchange Thursday. But the companies concerned later said the compound "is still in its infancy clinically" and requires much further study to determine its ultimate usefulness.

As rumors swept the exchange, the common stock of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. — parent company of E. R. Squibb & Sons — rose to a new 1957 high. The stock closed Thursday at $58.50, up $4.62 a share from Wednesday.

After the exchange closed, both companies in a joint statement confirmed the existence of the compound—a steroid—but denied that it was a "cure."

Eisenhower Names Envoy To Denmark

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Val Peterson to be ambassador to Denmark. Leo A. Hoegh, former Republican governor of Iowa, was picked to succeed Peterson as federal civil defense administrator.

Both nominations are subject to Senate confirmation.

Peterson, former GOP governor of Nebraska, has been chief of the Civil Defense Administration since February 1953. For a few weeks prior to that, he served as an administrative assistant to Eisenhower.

Hoegh, 49, was governor of Iowa from 1954 through 1956. He was defeated in a bid for re-election.

Before his election as governor, he served as Iowa's attorney general from 1953 to 1954.

Lately he has been engaged in private law practice.

Asked about any background in civil defense, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Hoegh "organized the civil defense program in Iowa."

Chinese Free 2 American Missionaries

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China today released two American Jesuit missionaries after four years of imprisonment and house arrest.

Father Charles J. McCarthy, 42, San Francisco, and Father John Alexander Houle, 42, Glendale, Calif., left the Shanghai house where they had been kept in recent months and went to the Jesuit mission headquarters in the Chinese metropolis.

Contacted by telephone from Hong Kong, Father McCarthy said he and Father Houle expected to leave Shanghai for Hong Kong in about 10 days, depending on travel facilities available.

Freeing of the two priests left six Americans still confined in Communist China, three under house arrest in Shanghai and three others believed imprisoned in the Peking-Tientsin area.

Father McCarthy reported that he and Father Houle were both in fair health.

Asked to comment on his treatment while imprisoned, he replied: "We are still in Shanghai and I would rather not say too much."

The release of the two priests had been expected since their sentences were to be completed Saturday. They were arrested June 15, 1953, presumably on the usual charge of "counter revolutionary activities and spying."

Find Fortune In Box
In Dead Woman's Home

NEW YORK (AP)—A hoard of $274,980 in cash has been found in a wooden box in the dreary apartment of a woman recluse who died three weeks ago at the age of 90.

The money—some new bills and some old—is in the hands of a police property clerk pending a court order on its disposition.

The treasure was found Thursday in the apartment of Mrs. Emma Buhl de Hart, widow of Samuel de Hart, a tugboat owner and captain who died 11 years ago.

Mrs. de Hart had lived alone in a second-floor flat above a store on Staten Island. She had no children, her nearest relatives, who had no idea that she had so much money, could find no will. They got a court order for search of the apartment.

A search party, which included, police, a nephew and a representative of the state Tax Commission, forced their way into the apartment and found the money.

Editors Of Metalworking Journals Tour Bliss Plant

Eleven editors of the nation's leading metalworking trade magazines visited the E. W. Bliss Co.'s Salem and Canton plants today.

The editors, who came from New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago, were given complete plant tours as a continuing part of the company's 100th Anniversary celebration.

Included in the group were Rupert LeGrand, associate editor, "American Machinist"; Charles Herb, editor, "Machinery"; John Haydock, editor, "Metalworking"; George F. Sullivan, editor, "The Iron Age"; Thomas MacNew, eastern editor, "Automotive Industries"; W. N. Nordquist, managing editor, "Tooling & Production"; Austin Brant, formerly of Salem, assistant editor, "Steel"; Roger Bolz, editor, "Automation"; J. S. Wilford, editor, "Production"; John W. Greve, editor, "The Tool Engineer"; and M. E. Heurter, editor, "Modern Industrial Press."

After a breakfast in Canton, the editors were driven to the company headquarters at Raff Road, S.W., where they were welcomed by James T. Harrington, secretary and director of public relations.

A meeting with Robert Potter, president, followed the Canton plant tour at which time the editors questioned Mr. Potter on recent trends within the press industry, new developments, research and other subjects.

Other company executives and officials joined the editors at a luncheon at Brookside Country Club. They then came to the Rolling Mill Division in Salem where they were welcomed by George Perrault, Jr., vice president and division manager.

The editors were among the first to witness the operation of a new rolling mill process which takes raw copper powder and turns it into solid copper strip which is equivalent to strip produced by ordinary methods. The process is estimated to save as much as 80 per cent of the present costs in producing copper by conventional methods.

The men concluded their tour of the Salem plant by viewing various types of rolling mills and auxiliary equipment in all stages of construction and by inspecting the new building which has been added to the plant.

The French today claimed their forces killed 180 nationalist rebels during the past 24 hours. They said 10 of their own soldiers were killed or wounded.

Clashes with the rebels appeared to be sharpest west of Algiers, which itself was calm.

Singer Makes Good

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "God waits until you are ready, then calls for you."

That is the simple faith of Erin O'Brien, a young singer who knocked for years at opportunity's door and found no one at home.

"So many times I wanted so hard to have a career, and nothing happened. And then, after I had done almost nothing for three years, everything seemed to happen at once."

Erin got her first break in an appearance on the Arthur Godfrey show. Then Steve Allen put her on four programs. Coral Records asked her to do an album for them, and Warner Brothers signed her to a term contract.

In her first picture she will play the second feminine lead in "Marjorie Morningstar," a film version of Herman Wouk's best-selling novel.

Erin is as dramatically beautiful as a royal palm tree bending in the wind, and it is hard to see how Hollywood overlooked her for so long, particularly since she's a home town girl.

She is one of 14 children — six sons, eight daughters — of a California milkman, and she first learned to sing in the family choir.

"Mama played the trombone piano," she recalled. "And dad sang a fine baritone. He could have had a professional career himself if he hadn't had such a large family — or so mama says. "Large families seem to run in our line. Dad comes from a family of 13 kids, mama from a family of either 15 or 16—I forget which."

From earlier childhood Erin, who is dark-haired and has a petal-fair complexion, dreamed of being an actress.

"From the age of 15 to 19 I went all the time to the studios," she remarked. "They all said, 'you're beautiful, and you have a voice, but you are immature and need experience.'"

"I hoped they'd offer to give me training, but nobody did. Then I got on television — and suddenly all doors seemed to open."

During this search for a break that never came Erin married Jimmy Fitzgerald, another young singer and had two sons.

"Now I'm mature. Somebody told me it was the babies that did it. I don't know. What does make you mature?"

Her entrance into the entertainment spotlight has turned neither her head nor the heads of those at home.

Red Sox Win 9-3 As Williams Clouts 3

Indians Held To Six Hits

Garcia Goes Tonight Against Baltimore

CLEVELAND (AP) — Winners in four of their last six games, the fourth place Cleveland Indians are showing signs of regaining the form which kept them near the top of the American League in the first part of the season.

The Tribe, after losing Herb Score, Bob Lemon and Roger Maris because of injuries, hit the skids on a tour of the Western Division clubs two weeks ago. Until that time they were playing well enough for a second-place tie with New York, three games behind the sizzling Chicago White Sox.

After being manhandled by Detroit, Chicago and Kansas City, the Tribe came home and lost three straight to the Yankees, who smacked 48 hits in the three games to score 34 runs.

The Indians split a four-game series with Washington and then won two games from the Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox took the series finale Thursday, riding to a 9-3 victory on the big bat of Ted Williams, who tied a major league record by hitting three home runs in a game for the second time this season. He turned the trick May 8 in Comiskey Park against the Chicago White Sox.

The three-inning performance set an American League record and tied a National League mark set by Ralph Kiner and Johnny Mize.

While the Red Sox were collecting nine hits, the Indians could get only six off Tom Brewer, who went all the way to post his seventh victory against five defeats.

Early Wynn, charged with the loss, evened his season's record at 7-7.

The Tribe got off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Brewer walked Rocky Colavito with the bases loaded, forcing home a run.

Rookie third baseman Frank Malzone homered in the second for the Red Sox to tie the score.

Williams' three-run homer in the third was all the Red Sox needed to coast to victory but Williams added home runs in the fifth and ninth. Following his second homer, the Red Sox scored three more runs on Jackie Jensen's single, a double by Malzone, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly by Gene Mauch.

A double by Al Smith, singles by Kenny Kuhn and Eddie Robinson and Larry Raines' grounder scored two Indian runs in the eighth.

Hank Aguirre relieved Earl Wynn with one out in the fifth and held the Red Sox scoreless until the ninth.

Bob Lemon, making his first appearance since he pulled a thigh muscle May 42, pitched the ninth inning and gave up three hits, including Williams' third home run.

Mike Garcia, winner of only one game in 10 starts, none of which he finished, will pitch against the Baltimore Orioles here tonight in the opener of a four-game series. Bill Wight, who has the same 1-3 record as Garcia, will pitch for Baltimore.

YANKEES, CHISOX BRAWL — Larry Doby, left, of the Chicago White Sox, and Art Ditmar, New York Yankees' pitcher, scuffle at home plate in Chicago after Doby hit the dirt on Ditmar's wild pitch. Umpire Larry Napp tries to separate them. Later players from both teams got into the act and Walt Drope of the White Sox and the Yankees' Billy Martin and Enos Slaughter were thrown out of the game.

AL President To Pronounce Penalties

Harridge 'To Swing' Today In Sox-Yankee Free-For-All

CHICAGO (AP) — It was to be Will Harridge's turn to swing today in the free-for-all fight between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees.

Harridge, president of the American League, planned to announce his verdict and pronounce the penalties.

He was a spectator at Thursday's battle royal between the belligerent Sox and the brawling Yankees—some of whose stars were fined $1,000 by their club for a recent New York night club altercation.

A wild pitch by Yank pitcher Art Ditmar in the first inning rang the gong for one of baseball's wildest fights. Larry Doby, who was at bat with mates on first and second base, threw himself to the ground to dodge the ball.

Ditmar moved in to protect the plate as catcher Elston Howard retrieved the ball. Doby and Ditmar exchanged words and Doby landed a left hook that sent Ditmar to a sitting position on the turf.

Bill Skowron, husky Yankee first baseman, grabbed Doby and threw him to the ground. Walt Drope, towering White Sox first baseman, tried to pull Skowron from Doby. Enos Slaughter of the Yanks went after Drope. Drope drove a looping right to Slaughter's balding head.

Players of both teams, keyed up by their pennant contention, swarmed on the field and milled in a melee.

Peace was close at hand when Billy Martin, Yankee first baseman, said something to Doby and they had to be separated.

The punching—Slaughter said it was the sharpest he has seen in many years in the business—and the wrestling, arguing and confusion lasted 28 minutes.

Drobe, Doby, Martin and Slaughter were ejected from the game. Whitey Ford of the Yankees was banished later for riding umpire John Stevens from the bench.

New York won the game, 4 to 3, and cut the league lead of the White Sox to four games.

But discussions continued. Harridge conferred for 20 minutes after the game with managers Al Lopez of the Sox and Casey Stengel of the Yanks and the four umpires.

Chuck Comiskey, White Sox vice president, told newsmen he had protested to the chief umpire, Napp, because Doby and Drope, his team's power hitters, were cast out while Ditmar was allowed to stay in the game.

Comiskey quoted Napp as saying Doby was the aggressor and that's why Ditmar was allowed to remain.

Doby stated later that he struck in "self defense"—he thought Ditmar was coming after him.

The White Sox claimed Al Cicotte, Yank pitcher, threw at Minnie Minoso Wednesday night. The attendance totaled 112,548.

Ditmar won his third victory against one loss. Billy Pierce was shelled out in the fifth inning of the finale, and lost his bid for his eleventh triumph of the season.

National Open In 2nd Round

Elements, Course Batter Golfers

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — America's golfing greats were a slightly battered and bewildered brigade today as they charged into the second round of the 57th National Open Championship.

Historic Inverness and the elements combined Thursday to give the shotmakers a pretty fair shellacking. Only nine of the 145 who finished the opening 18-hole round on schedule were able to hold their own against par 70.

Out front, with the greatest start he's ever had in the big show, was dapper Jimmy Demaret, the transplanted Texan now playing from Kiamasha Lake, N. Y.

Jimmy, first grandfather to lead the first round of an Open, used only 26 putts in carding a fine 68, two strokes under.

Jimmy has the distinction of having shot the second best 72-hole score ever registered in the previous 56 Opens—but he didn't win. His 278 at Los Angeles in 1948 was two back of Ben Hogan, who set the record.

But Hogan, four-time winner of the big bauble, dropped out Thursday without firing a shot as a back ailment forced him to the sidelines. With his fellow Texan out of the way, Jimmy hoped his one-stroke edge would hold up.

The edge, however, could have been short-lived. As darkness fell Thursday night, following a long holdup of play due to heavy rains and winds, 15 players were on the course with holes still to play in the first round. They were called back to complete the session Friday morning.

Among them was Chick Harbert, the former PGA champion from Northville, Mich. As he stepped up to the 17th tee to resume play, gray-haired Chick needed only two pars to tie Demaret for the top spot.

Of those who finished the first round on time, but soaking wet, the big challengers were Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., Masters champion and the year's No. 1 money winner; Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N. C., and 1952 Open King, and Ken Venturi of San Francisco, who turned pro about six months ago.

The trio had scores of 69, one under par, for the 6,919-yard course, and with Demaret were the only ones to break par.

All three scored birdies on the last hole to do it, with putts ranging from 5 to 12 feet. Boros also got some help with a 50-foot eagle chip shot on the 527-yard 12th hole—the only eagle of the day.

So tough was the going that the 145 finishers, in 2,610 holes played, scored only 207 birdies in addition to Boros' eagle. That figures out to less than a birdie and a half per player, which isn't too hot when the best in the land are doing the firing.

But par, while surrendering 209 strokes here and there, took a heavy toll elsewhere—for the 145 players wound up with an aggregate score of 957 strokes over par.

Anthony Risks No. 1 Ranking Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Tony Anthony, while waiting for champion Archie Moore to agree to a defense of his light heavyweight crown, risks his No. 1 ranking tonight against French-Canadian Yvon Durelle.

Anthony has everything to lose and nothing to gain except a $4,000 guarantee in this nationally televised (NBC-TV, 9 p.m. CDT) bout scheduled for 10 rounds at Olympia Stadium.

"I can't wait forever on Archie," the 22-year-old New York explained. "I gotta keep busy."

Durelle, a swarthy 27-year-old who successfully defended his Canadian light heavyweight title just weeks ago by knocking out Gordon Wallace in two rounds, isn't regarded as much of a threat to Anthony's position.

Undefeated since he stepped into the light heavyweight ranks last year, Anthony has won 30 of 34 fights with 23 knockouts to his credit.

Each fighter is expected to weigh about 175 pounds, although Anthony is four inches taller than his opponent. Durelle is credited with 40 wins in 56 fights against one draw and 14 losses. One bout was called "no contest."

REDLEGS SIGN SHORTSTOP

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Redlegs have signed Hank Bivens, 19, a 453-hitting shortstop for Cincinnati Withrow High School this season. The Reds announced the signing Thursday and said Bivens will report to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League next week.

Phillies Hammer Cardinals 8-1

Giants Trample Cubs 7-4; Tigers Edge Orioles 2-1; Kansas City Is Winner

By The Associated Press

How hot can the pennant races get in September, what with first place resting on percentage-point leads and player brawls busting out all over in June?

The Milwaukee Braves, following Manager Fred Haney's springtime directive to the letter, hustled and scrapped back into the National League lead, by eight percentage points, with a riotous 8-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday.

They made it with the help of Pittsburgh's Pirates, as Manager Bobby Bragan's kids swept a four-game set from Cincinnati, skidding the Redlegs from first to third with a 3-2 victory. Philadelphia surged back into second place, six points ahead of the Redlegs, with an 8-1 victory that ended St. Louis' winning streak at eight games and plunked the Cardinals back to fifth—only 1½ games away from first and nine points back of fourth-place Brooklyn.

The American League had its moments too. Chicago and New York had a rip-roaring, 28-minute melee before the second-place Yankees trimmed the White Sox lead to four games with a 4-3 decision.

And Ted Williams tied a major league record, unloading three home runs in one game for the second time this season as the Boston Red Sox hammered Cleveland 9-3, knocking the Indians backing to fourth place. Detroit regained third, nipping Baltimore 2-1.

Kansas City smacked Washington 6-2 and the New York Giants clipped the Chicago Cubs 7-4 in the other games.

The Braves, who were last in the lead May 15, hustled back after blowing a 4-0 lead, built mainly on Billy Bruton's two home runs—and after a second-inning blow-up triggered by a Don Drysdale pitch that caught Milwaukee shortstop Johnny Logan in the side. Both Drysdale and Logan were thrown out of the game after the free-for-all was put down. Milwaukee finally won the series 3-1 with a four-run eighth inning against Dodger relief ace Clem Labine. Carl Sawatski's three-run homer bagged it. Bob Trowbridge won it with relief help.

Right-hander Jack Sanford chopped down the Cardinals with a nine-hitter. The Cardinal run, in the third, was the first off the 27-year-old rookie in 26 innings. Bob Friend kept the Redlegs in a spin with a six-hitter, giving up two home runs by Don Hoak, to win his fourth while the Pirates were nailing Hal Jeffcoat. Gene Baker's sacrifice fly in the ninth did it.

Chicago's Larry Doby and Walt Dropo and New York's Enos Slaughter and Billy Martin got the heave-ho at Chicago, after Doby downed Art Ditmar with a sweet left hook to the chin following a wild pitch by the Yankee right-hander that almost nicked the Sox center fielder.

Jim Rivera homered for a 2-0

White Sox lead, but the Yankees then won the rubber game of the series with a three-run fifth on doubles by Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle and singles by Bill Skowron and Joe Collins. Billy Pierce lost it.

Williams tagged loser Early Wynn for his first two homers, then got No. 17 off Bob Lemon. Tom Brewer, also supported by Frank Malzone's three RBIs, won his seventh.

Charlie Maxwell's sixth home run in six days and J. W. Porter's RBI double gave the Tigers two sixth-inning runs as right-hander John Tsitouris won in his first major league game.

Jack Urban, part of that multi-player deal with the Yankees last February, won his first major league start for the A's, who backed up his five-hitter with four home runs, all off Pete Ramos.

Whitey Lockman, Ray Jablonski and Red Schoendienst homered for the Giants as reliever Jim Davis won his first—with relief help from his uncle Marv Grissom.

Reds Drop 4th To Pirates

Cincinnati Now In Third Place

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the slump-ridden Cincinnati Redlegs says his team is "due to come out of it with a bang one of these days."

The change can't come too soon. The Reds, longtime National League leaders this season, dropped the fourth straight game Thursday to Pittsburgh's seventh-place Pirates, 3-2.

The loss knocked the Reds to third place, behind Milwaukee and Philadelphia.

Tebbetts said: "Heaven knows, we're not that bad, and somebody will have to pay for it when we get back on the beam."

It was a 2-2 game up to the ninth inning. Then ace Redleg starter Hal Jeffcoat got into trouble.

He loaded the bases, and Gene Baker lifted a high fly to Wally Post in right field. It gave Bill Mazeroski time to dart home from third with the deciding marker.

Bob Friend, Pirate starter, collected his fourth win against seven losses, doling out six hits to the Redlegs.

The Pirates puffed out a quick run in the second inning on a walk and two singles.

High-hitting Don Hook evened the score in the third inning with a four-base blast, but Pittsburgh came back in the third on a single by Dee Fondy and a run-scoring double by Frank Thomas.

Again the Reds came back, in the fifth with Hoak's second homer. Then the game settled down to a scoreless contest of pitchers up to the ninth inning.

Sluggish Ted Kluszewski, newly restored to duty after an absence with a back ailment, took over his old first base post, but the best he could get was a single to center in the ninth inning.

The Reds shift to New York tonight for the first of three games with the Giants. Joe Nuxhall is slated to start tonight's game, opposing Bob Miller.

Spokane—Davey Moore, 128½, Springfield, Ohio, outpointed Buddy McDonald, 136½, Edmonton, Alta., 10.

New Class AA Ohio Trapshoot Champion

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 26-year-old Sandusky attorney is the new Class AA Ohio Trapshoot champion after a 199 of 200 performance.

The only miss by winner Fred Waldo Jr. came on the third target. Thursday's high winds carried it off erratically. But he went on to break 197 in a row to capture the title.

The 1956 champion, Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro, is not competing this year.

There were new champions in all classes Thursday. A 195 took the Class A championship for Forrest Good of Dayton. Col. R. A. Bradley of Fairborn took the Class B event, also with 195.

Bernard Froehlich of Cincinnati fired 190 to top Class C contenders and L. E. Buckingham, Norwalk, took the Class D event with 187. Championship firing continues through Sunday.

Logan, Drysdale Trigger Scrap Between Milwaukee, Brooklyn

By The Associated Press

Johnny Logan and Billy Martin, a pair of compact little infielders in different leagues but the same weight class, had some more clippings for their "scrap" books today following one of the most riotous afternoons baseball has known.

Seven Colts Entered In Belmont Race

NEW YORK (AP)—The names of seven colts were dropped into the entry box today for the 89th Belmont Stakes, and if racing secretary Jimmy Kilroe finds an extra one it will be the best kept secret since scientists began monkeying with nuclear fission.

Third and toughest of the triple crown series, the mile and one-half classic is expected to bring a tense duel between the Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler and Ralph Loew's Gallant Man. The 3-year-old championship of 1957 probably will hang on the outcome.

Gallant Man will have a stablemate, Bold Nero, in the struggle, while the remainder of the lineup consists of the Greentree Stable's Cohoes, the Cain Hoy Stable's Lucky Dip, Mrs. Jules Schwartz's Nah Hiss, and the D&M Stable's Inside Tract.

All will carry 126 pounds in the race to be carried on the CBS television and radio network, 3:30-4 p.m. EST. With seven starters, the jackpot would total $114,350, the winner grabbing $78,300.

Quoted earlier as an even money favorite, Bold Ruler may go to the post Saturday as an odds-on 4 to 5 choice, with Gallant Man and Bold Nero 8-5.

Los Angeles — George Berry, 139½, Los Angeles, outpointed Steve Tony, 145, Philippines, 10.

Logan, who plays shortstop for the Milwaukee Braves when he tends to business, was one of the principals in a free-for-all at Brooklyn Thursday, triggered by taunts between Logan and Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale in the heat of the National League pennant race.

Martin, an infield handyman for the New York Yankees, didn't get to work until peace apparently had been installed at Comiskey Park in a first-inning flareup between the second place Yankees and American League leading Chicago White Sox. Four players were given the thumb in that melee, broken up with the help of eight cops.

The battle in Ebbets Field started moments after Drysdale, a 20-year-old right-hander who stands 6-5, weighs 189, had plunked a pitch into Logan's side—a natural rebuttal, some folks claimed, to Billy Bruton's second home run which had just given the Braves a 4-0 lead in the second inning.

Logan, 30, and a 5-11, 175-pounder, fussed along to first base, warning Drysdale that "I'll get you when you come into second base!"

"If you got a beef," answered long Don, "come get it over with right now."

It was Katie bar the door. Milwaukee's Ed Mathews wrestled Drysdale to the ground after leading a charge of players from both dugouts. Drysdale and Logan exchanged swipes. Brooklyn first baseman Gil Hodges, attempting to break it up, was pinned by Milwaukee coaches Elmer Riddle and Connie Ryan. Everybody got into the act before order was restored.

Logan and Drysdale were ejected, Logan suffering a slight cut over the left eye—"a leftover from the last fight," he quipped. Drysdale had welts on his neck and shoulder. Hodges had a slight spike cut on his thigh.

NEW HEAD COACH NAMED HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Carl Faliene, former coach at Dayton Wilbur Wright, is new head football and basketball coach at Hamilton Catholic High School. Terry Malone, a graduate of Xavier University is assistant in both sports.

Convict Faces Thirty Additional Years

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Bellaire, Ohio, man, already serving 10 years in prison for violation of narcotics laws, faces an additional 30-year sentence after pleading guilty to another violation.

Federal Judge William F. Cer-cone imposed the 30-year sentence on Edward Todd, 56, who also drew a $7,500 fine. Todd was brought here from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., where he is serving the 10-year sentence. He was specifically charged with possession and sale of narcotics.

Civil Rights Bill Up For Passage

Proponents Predict Victory By Nightfall

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House went into its showdown session on civil rights today with proponents predicting passage of the bill before nightfall without fundamental changes.

The big question remaining was whether the Southern opponents would succeed in attaching to the measure an amendment guaranteeing a jury trial to anyone accused of violating a federal injunction issued to support civil rights.

As drawn, the bill would permit a federal court judge to issue an injunction, and then to jail or otherwise punish anyone he found guilty of violating it.

Proponents say such procedure is common in injunction proceedings, and is necessary to uphold the power of the courts. Jury trials in the South, some contend, would result in acquittal of persons charged with contempt of court for violation of civil rights injunctions.

Southerners contend, however, that rights of their citizens should be protected by trial by jury.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), chief of the Democratic floor forces supporting the bill, and House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts separately told reporters they expect the jury trial amendment to fail.

House passage of the bill, in one form or another, is not in much question. The House passed a similar bill last year by a substantial majority, but it died in the Senate.

The Senate Judiciary Committee has been marking time on a companion bill during the climactic House debate.

Proponents of the bill won all major test votes Thursday, defeating five amendments. The only amendment adopted was one by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.). It would broaden the investigative authority of the proposed civil rights commission to include miscounting of votes as well as denial of voting rights.

An attempt by Rep. Alger (R-Tex.) to bring the controversial "right-to-work" issue into the legislation failed when Rep. Forand (D-RI) ruled this was foreign to the purpose of the bill. Forand was presiding over the House in its capacity as a committee of the whole.

Alger, arguing that civil rights are impaired by work contracts that require union membership, proposed an amendment for investigation of such requirements along with violations of voting and other rights.

A "right-to-work" provision in the bill would alienate much of its support outside the South. A Negro minister announced plans, meantime, for a campaign to prepare three million Southern Negroes for voting in the 1958 elections.

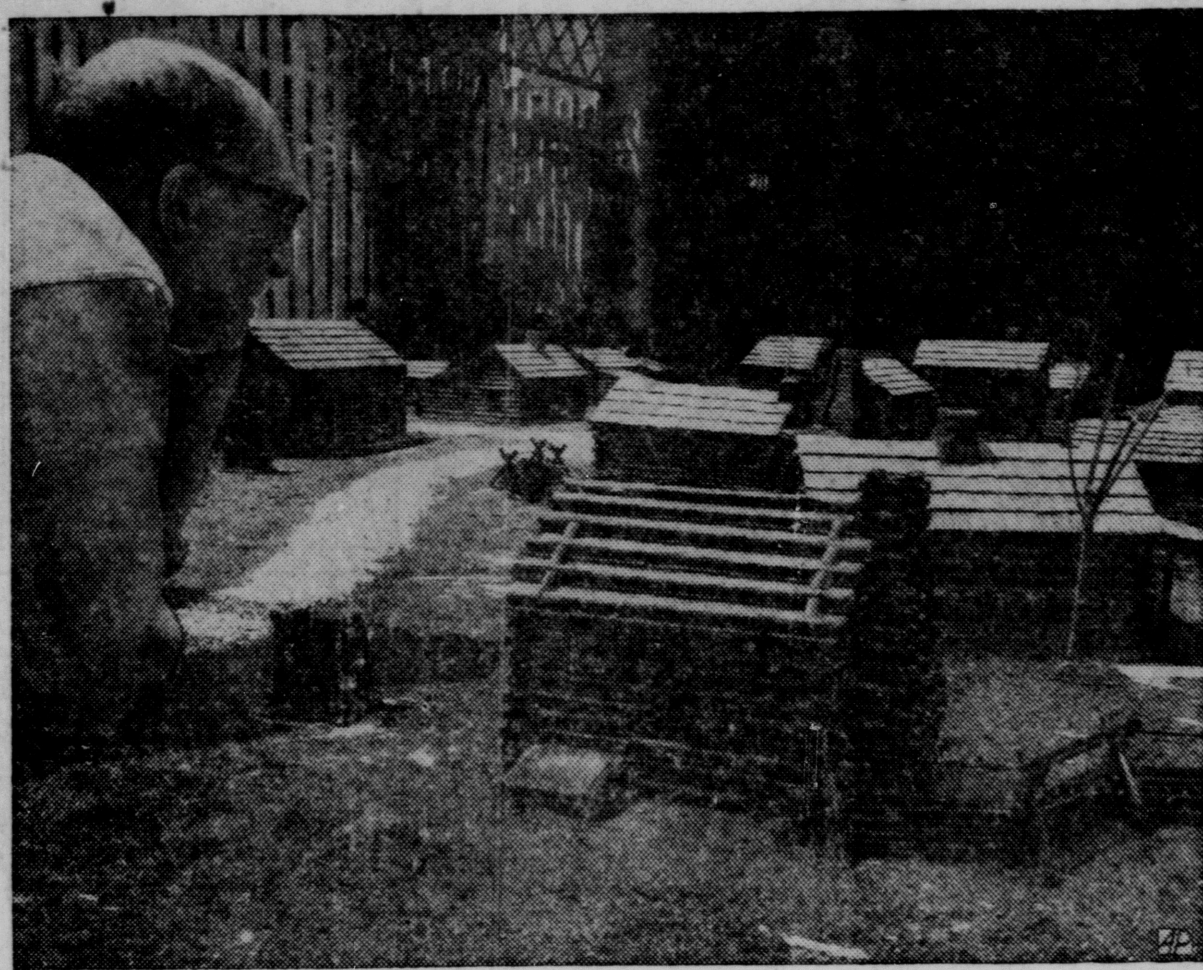

Dr. Martin Luther King, one of the leaders in the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, disclosed the plans after outlining them to Vice President Nixon in a conference Thursday.

Nixon, who had no comment on his meeting with the minister, was asked to support the campaign by pushing the pending civil rights bill, urging Southerners to support Negro voting rights, and making a number of personal speeches on the subject in the South.

ONE KILLED IN CRASH

CLEVELAND (AP)—One man was killed and two injured in the head-on collision of two automobiles Thursday night in suburban Solon. Killed was Stanley Cmun, 42, Solon, driver of one of the cars. The other driver, Robert Crum, 44, Hudson, Ohio, was taken to Brentwood Hospital, Warrensville Heights, with chest injuries and a possible fracture of the left leg. A passenger in Cmun's car, Edward Yax, 38, Solon, suffered minor injuries.

Lausche Says Small Ohio Farmers Not Aided By Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (AP)—Do small Ohio farmers get any help from the soil bank program? Sen. Frank J. Lausche's answer to that one is "no."

That was one of the reasons the Ohio Democrat gave for offering an amendment on the Senate floor the other day that would have abolished the plan, as the House had voted to do.

But Lausche was badly outnumbered. The Senate voted against him 71-7.

His senior colleague, Republican John W. Bricker, wasn't there, having left for his hotel on the understanding there would be no more votes that day. However, Bricker's office said he would have opposed Lausche's proposal, too.

The soil bank is a government program to pay farmers for taking land out of production, with the idea of reducing farm surpluses. This year, Ohio farmers will receive checks totaling close to 20 million dollars under the program.

It is Lausche's contention that the soil bank has not reduced surpluses.

Some senators who voted against him agreed that he had some good points.

Georgia's Richard B. Russell, for instance, noted that many farmers take payments for removing land for production, then use the money to fertilize the remaining acreage in order to produce more.

However, Sen. Russell said, he was voting against Lausche's amendment for this reason:

"We have in this country no active farm program to help the farmer except the acreage reserve program. Whether it is effective or ineffective, it does get some money into the hands of the farmer. . . .

"In other words, all our people except the farmer are eating at the table of Dives, the rich man. . . .

"The poor old farmer occupies the position of Lazarus. He is sitting down near the table, his body covered with sores . . . he is sitting there waiting for this little crumb."

Jury Awards $500 To Salineville Woman

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Thursday afternoon awarded $500 to a Salineville woman who had filed a personal injuries suit against Casner Fitch of Navarre, formerly of Washington, for injuries sustained in an accident Nov. 1, 1953 in Salineville.

Mrs. Hannah Ellen Green was awarded the sum by a jury which deliberated one hour and twenty minutes. Mrs. Green had asked $25,000, claiming she suffered permanent injuries to her back.

Mrs. Green was a passenger in a car operated by her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Ann Bettis, which figured in a collision with a truck driven by the defendant.

FACTS ABOUT THE Y.W.C.A.

We are now at the point in our YWCA building fund campaign to ASSURE a permanent home for the YWCA. However, we must have the balance of the $75,000 objective, to be able to build and furnish the new outfit. The greater portion of this balance must be pledged within the next week.

The industrial, commercial and special gift committees have indicated that there are a number of SUBSTANTIAL gifts forth coming.

The wonderful spirit we have found everywhere makes us confident that we will go "Over The Top" This spirit can lead us on to great accomplishment, and we believe it will.

We know you will be proud to add your substantial gift and become a part of this permanent civic project.
